OAKLAND, Dec. 7.—UP—Chaplain Leslie C. Kelley, who recently offered his resignation from the state athletic commission, today asked police protection at his residence although harrasingly believed that kidnap threats directed against his two children were made by "cranks."

Several telephoned threats were received, the first a week ago, Chaplain Kelley said. "I'm going to make you suffer for your treatment of Governor Rolph. You are going to know what it feels like having your own children kidnaped. Then we'll see what you think of kidnapping."

Rev. Kelley, when he resigned from the athletic commission, said he did so to protest the governor's approval of the San Jose lynching of two kidnap-slayers.

DEALERS GET PRE-VIEW OF 1934 FORDS

Six hundred Ford dealers from all over the country gathered in San Francisco for the annual Ford Motor company show and under the direction of Clarence A. Ballew, manager of the Richmond plant, witnessed a pre-view of the new models of the 1934 Ford cars.

They will be in the hands of the dealers in a few days. In addition to the dealers, there were news reporters and photographers on the lot.

By long distance telephone, Henry Ford and his son Edsel spoke over a broadcasting system, telling the dealers that potential markets had been revived, and the time had come to campaign for business on a big scale.

Many of the other officials of the Ford Motor company, including engineers and metallurgists, told the assembled crowd that the best materials that could be purchased were in the new cars.

Afterwards the new models were thrown open to the dealers and visitors, and the enthusiasm was unbounded.

The cars are streamlining in the extreme, dual carburetors have been installed, greater speed is promised, and two and a half more miles to each gallon of gasoline is assured. One of the attractive features of the cars is the new ventilation system that has been worked out.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of last night's meeting by William Kinney and his refreshment committee.

NRA Head Warns U.S. Business

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—UP—Lush S. Johnson, of the NRA, warned the national Association of Manufacturers tonight that attacks on the Roosevelt anti-protection act likely to lead to congressional re-consideration, resulting in a flood of greenbacks.

He warned also, that attempts of industry to weaken labor protection of the recovery act and the coming are likely to result in congressional action in the other direction, toward greater labor protection, shorter hours and a 10-cent day.

Johnson denounced exactly the monetary program and the NRA, and with vigor attacked critics of the administration.

"The Roosevelt dollar is the soundest money on the face of the globe now or at any other time," he said. "The country is conducting a monetary experiment, but it did not throw away body, soul and blood to do it, as it would have done had it gone to the printing press."

Turning to labor, he said: "The plain fact is that if you men want to organize in what ever form they choose, they have a right to do so and you have no right to interfere. The obvious way to meet a law you do not like is to ask congress to amend or repeal it."

Persons were reported to have been killed in the blast and the fire which followed it.

Chief of Police J. C. Fowler told the United Press he understood the men were trapped in an old store building formerly the post office and in the basement of which the blast was believed to have occurred.

2 Are Slain In Gambling Row

MOB SEIZES, MUTILATES NEGRO BODY

KOUNTZE, Texas, Dec. 7.—UP—A mob took the body of David Gregory, negro accused of slaying a white woman, from officers here tonight and headed for the woods, apparently bent upon burning it.

Gregory was fatally wounded earlier today when he resisted capture by a posse.

Sherriff Miles B. Jordan said he tried to remove the negro's body safely from a Beaumont hospital, where he died, to Hardin county.

A mob of about 400 enraged citizens met his party here.

"I let them have the body," the sherriff said. "I figured I'd rather give up the body of a negro than shoot a white man."

Members of the mob tied Gregory's body behind an automobile and dragged it away.

A telephone report from a United Press correspondent who accompanied the mob said that Gregory's body was mutilated by mob members with knives, a few miles north of here, but that no preparations had been made to fire it.

The negro was accused in the slaying of Mrs. Nellie Williams Brockman, killed with a shot gun and partially burned.

Officers said identification of Gregory was positive through his fingerprints.

EMPLOYMENT PLAN

The Administration has another employment plan up its sleeve. It is the radio field.

Frank C. Wright, director of the Transportation Loan Division of the P. W. A. has completed a report estimating that the carriers are in need of $10,000,000 worth of repairs and replacements. According to his figures:

228,277 freight cars need extensive repairs, 19735 engines require overhauling, hundreds of bridges, trestles, and thousands of miles of track are in sore need of improvement; much roundhouse equipment is obsolete and outworn, practically all Class 1 roads need new engines.

The National Industrial Recovery Act contained a specific provision for government loans to the carriers for new equipment and repairs. So far $135,000,000 has been extended for these purposes.

The plan now under consideration is to greatly increase the loans so that the railroads can begin buying. Their wants are entirely in the capital goods industry one of the weakest spots in the industrial situation—and the result from such large scale orders should be stimulating.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Henry L. Monden, the czar of Baltimore, who first lashed the residents of Salisbury regarding their lynching habits, will not spend his vacation on the Eastern shore of Maryland. A lot of people have been guessing as to the exact date of a conversation between Monden and Ray Baker, the latter of whom they considered the Atlantic on the same boat.

The former for General and the latter for the Soviet Communist is an ancient adage. The fact that politically appointed diplomat of Republican vintage has now been recalled by Roosevelt to his post, has been reported by Spokane, Whelan and Indiana newspapers. "Charlie" lasted a long time. He was reported by Harding fourteen years ago, served in various posts. Last job in Berlin. Billy Phillips, circumspect Acting Secretary of State, has overhauled his office into four rooms. This is more than his chief Mr. Hull has. Phillips is now running the State Department with almost no assistance. — Irwin

Lauchlin, Pittsburgh steel king, has moved back into his palatial home alongside Eugene Meyer.

In Madrid, where Lauchlin served as Hoover's ambassador, he will be remembered a long time. He started a bolly Gann social war by insisting that he come in to dinner ahead of the Speaker of the Cortes. Spain almost asked for his recall—General Baker told him, sometime director of the Mint is sitting in his new house in Washington, while his wife, the former Delphine Dodge, takes piano lessons in Paris. Ray says she is studying eight hours a day.

Louis XIV. chandeliers, plaster rapidly added furniture and all the trappings of the czar will disappear from the old Russian Embassy before the Soviets move in. The real building, once the scene of Washington's gayest ballroom, is to be redecorated in keeping with the tastes of a government which believes in the welfare of the proletariat. Chief decoration by the present unofficial Soviet Embassy is a huge bust of Lenin.

Word from the Midwest is that Spanish War Veterans are planning stores with plans to repeal the Economy Act. Just a slight indication of the veterans' drive to be made on congress. "Sec" Hull is a Spanish War Veteran. Secretary Lick is a rapidly opening.

Pauley Dam construction work to negro workers. For a long time they were barred—Some of the negro money boys in the Treasury Department are suggesting that their "charity" collection be relegated to the Island of Yap, where money takes the form of hundred pound stone discs. A pile through the middle of the disc permits it to be carried on the backs of natives. Mrs. Roosevelt has reduced the staff of White House servants from 32 to 23. She estimates she has to live within her budget.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 7. (P.) Confident Ray Morrison, coach of southern Methodist university's line team, wired today his protest against the odds on St. Mary's in the game here Saturday. "Those 22 to 1 odds on St. Mary's are ridiculous," declared Morrison. "We have a good chance to beat the Gaels this year, and considering the close game played in 1931 I cannot see why the odds should be so long." Morrison indicated his team would pass freely to overcome the weight advantage held by the St. Mary's line.

Yosemite, Dec. 7. (P.) University of California will send athletes here December 27-29 to participate in the Pacific Coast intercollegiate winter games, according to word received today by James Connell, winter sports director, from W. P. G. and E. ELECTRIC RATES are among the lowest!

PACIFIC Gas and Electric Company has always kept its electric rates at the lowest possible point consistent with the best service possible.

Occasionally a system may be pointed out that charges lower rates. But always there is a reason. It is a system having some special advantage that makes a lower rate possible.

It may be exempt from taxes. We pay 14.5 cents in taxes out of every dollar we collect.

It may have a natural water fall close at hand, such as Niagara Falls, giving inexpensive hydro power. We have had to build our own water falls in the high mountains as far as 250 miles away, and the great transmission lines to bring the electricity to the market.

It may have only a thickly-populated metropolitan population to serve. We serve city and country alike.

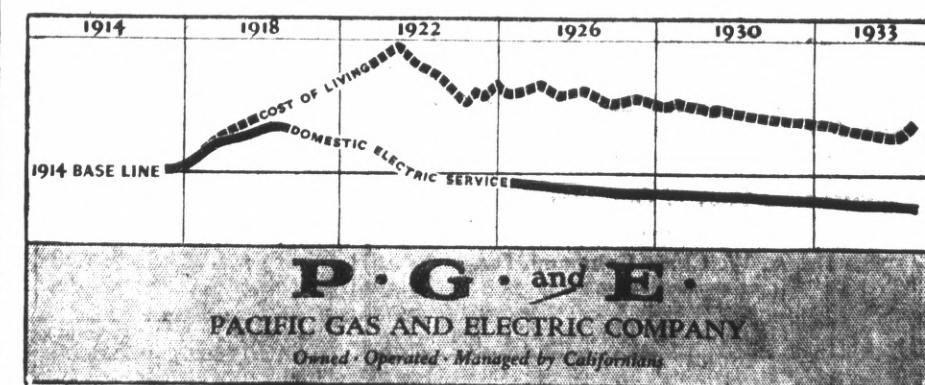

But rates lower than ours are the exception, not the rule.

If we were exempt from taxes, our rates would be as low as any in the country. "Tax exemption," however, is merely a high-sounding phrase of political humbug. Costs of government do not decrease. They must be met by taxes, and exempting the public from paying these taxes in one form means merely that it must pay them in another.

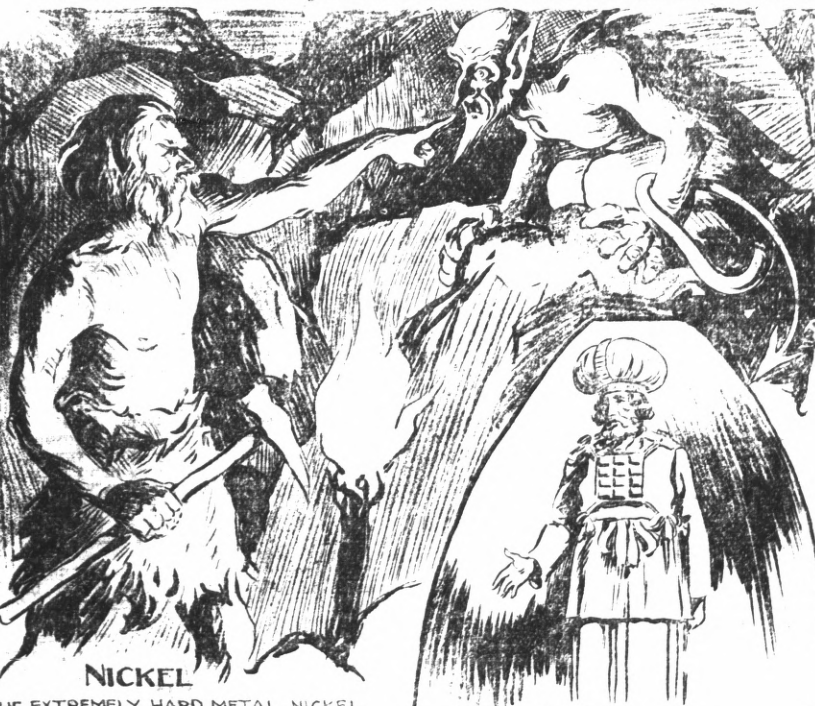

P. G. and E. electric rates are 40 percent lower today than the rates of 1921. They have been reduced regularly, whenever a reduction could be made without handicapping service.

Prices of all other commodities are increasing.

Electricity unaffected by the prevailing upward price trend, remains the best bargain buy for the home.

Your Good Health

By CLAUD N. CHESMAN, M.D.

Treating and Curing Eczema, That Annoying Skin Disease

TETTER or eczema, comprises thirty to forty per cent of our skin diseases. It is no respecter of persons. It is about as common in women as in men. Though those doing manual labor are more likely to have it because they are more often exposed to irritants, as dirt and grease, and because they must use stronger soaps and much water. Many cases are caused by chemical irritants, and drugs, like tar, sulphur, turpentine and alkaline wash water. Excessive use of soap and water, particularly when not followed by careful drying excites many skins to inflammation, by removing the oil and leaving the skin dry.

SURGEONS' hands are often affected, due to use of antiseptics. Some eruptions are caused by poisonous plants as ivy, sumac and primrose. Friction on any part of the body and the rubbing of clothing may irritate the skin and produce an itching, and the scratching does the rest. Most cases are made worse by scratching. Even the person of strong will and determination cannot refrain from scratching while sleeping and the nights seem to be the worst time for itching.

COLD weather may be the exciting cause, also hot weather. So much so that some persons suffer from it in winter only and some only in the summer. There seems to be a nervous element in some persons that predisposes them to the disease. It is not uncommon for those having asthma to have eczema when not afflicted with asthma and vice versa. Persons of light color and thin skins are most susceptible than those of darker skins. Frequently those suffering from eczema are below par physically. They may not be sick, but they will be run down, overworked, depressed, and they have a lowered resistance. Indeed, the internal causes of eczema are those which lower the resistance.

THOSE suffering from intestinal stagnation, those who overeat or use a great deal of sugar and starch will not improve if this condition is not removed. Such disease as rheumatism, some kidney troubles and diabetes are frequently causes and any dermatitis trouble prolongs the affliction. Some cases are undoubtedly due to a nervous reflex.

A FEW years ago I was very agreeably surprised when a young woman who was suffering from an apparently incurable eczema, was suddenly relieved after I had her apply a belt to support her floating kidney. I do not try to explain this reaction. Any attempt at treatment, must be to a large extent symptomatic. When the general health is poor, it should be remedied.

ONE of the first things to do is to curb habits of so-called good living, by greatly reducing the quantity of food and by restricting the use of sugars, starches and highly seasoned foods. In an acute case it is well to start with a brisk cathartic. One of the best is a course of calomel and soda, one-quarter grain tablet of calomel with one grain of soda every hour for twelve hours followed by epsom salts or some saline and large quantities of water.

LOCAL applications are necessary to control the itching, burning and scabbing. We must remove the local irritant if possible. Use of soap and water should be prohibited except when absolutely necessary for cleanliness. Any application should be soothing, various preparations containing boric acid and glycerine are helpful.

A VERY good mixture for the itching is carbolic acid one-half teaspoonful, alcohol one and one-half ounces, glycerine two ounces, and enough water to make four ounces. Various cold ointments are helpful to shut out the air and external irritants. Many preparations are helpful and they should be non-irritating and offer protection.

Don't forget how smart sweaters are this season—especially when twins, a slip-on and a cardigan, but otherwise identical. You may turn your cardigan around and wear it opened at the back if you want to be very collegiate. Knitted clothes have not passed with the summer, nor will they be allowed time off all winter if you week-end or live in the country—or south.

ANCIENTS USED HONEY FACIAL TO REFINE SKIN

By JACQUELINE HUNT

RECENTLY I have received requests from several friends for directions for using honey as a beautifying agent. It is a bit messy, I'll warn you, but I think you will have a lot of fun and satisfaction trying out this old-fashioned beauty aid. Though I have used it for years, I have not found the virtues of honey as a food and medicine—but I'll wager that many of the ladies of the kingdom could have told him things he didn't know if only they wanted to divulge their beauty secrets.

Honey is mildly bleaching; it is a softening agent and a corrective for oily skin, blemishes and enlarged pores. It can be used to correct blemishes on a very dry skin, but you should be especially liberal in your use of creams afterward.

Here are the directions for a facial that I feel you will want to try, and I do not believe that you will be disappointed in results. Have your face, neck and shoulders thoroughly cleansed and stimulate the circulation by giving the muscles of the shoulders and neck a good, vigorous massage. Apply a rich cream lot on your shoulders and use a kneading movement to work upward to your neck. Remember that this massage is intended to stimulate the circulation, so do not neglect an inch of the area.

Now apply a little more cream to your face and massage with light upward, patting strokes to your temples. Then the honey. It will feel sticky and pull on the muscles, but that is what it should do. Use your fingertips and, starting low on your chin, pat upward with firm, even pressure that exercises all the little muscles. Repeat the patting, returning to your chin each time, until you have massaged your entire face and forehead.

For the forehead massage, start over the bridge of your nose and massage upward to the hairline. Then move your fingers gradually out to your temples and work upward until the entire forehead has been patting. After the face has been exercised and smeared with the honey, place a square of gauze wet with very warm water over your face and keep it there, moistening it more with a pad of absorbent cotton from time to time. Leave the wet gauze over your face for five minutes, then remove it and sponge your skin with clear, warm water.

Now is an excellent time to attend to any blemishes like pimples that need opening or blackheads that can be easily extracted. After this operation sponge the face again with warm water to which a mild antiseptic has been added. Without drying your skin, apply a little more honey, dry your skin by patting gently with a soft tissue or old towel. Unless your skin is quite oily you will need to apply a little cream.

Since the honey is quite astringent in action, this treatment should not be used too often. One every two weeks is sufficiently often. Between the treatments follow your usual cleansing methods and a good skin tonic or ice rub afterward. You will be delighted with the fairness and clarity of your skin after two or three treatments.

MODES AND MANNERS

QUESTION: "Last year my friend celebrated her fifteenth wedding anniversary, the crystal wedding. Next week will be her sixteenth wedding anniversary. What nature of gift is appropriate for this year?—Mrs. G. D."

ANSWER: This time you are not restricted, as you were last year, in the choice of a gift. According to the table of wedding anniversaries, every year up to the tenth has a symbol. The first is paper; the second, cotton; the third, leather; the fourth, silk; the fifth, wood; the sixth, iron; the seventh, wool; the eighth, bronze; the ninth, pottery; the tenth, tin. After the first ten, apparently, a wedding anniversary is nothing to get excited about, as after the fifteenth, which calls for crystals, five years or longer must elapse before a wedding anniversary has special meaning. From here on follows the twentieth, or china, anniversary; the twenty-fifth, or silver; the fiftieth, or golden wedding.

QUESTION: "Please let me know if it is proper to send wedding announcements out before the ceremony?—P. P."

ANSWER: Wedding announcements are sent after a wedding.

The second gown is fashioned of black velvet, and white lace is introduced to accent the deep-shoulder line. The dress is cut in a deep V to the waistline at the back, contrasting with the square shaping at the front.

AVOCADOS ARE NICE TO SERVE

By JUDITH WILSON

THEY are called by many names—avocados, calavos or plain alligator pears—their creamy-fleshed, nutty-flavored fruits, that originated in the tropics. Once this green-skinned fruit was scarce and expensive, but it is now produced plentifully in several of our Southern states and California as well as in the West Indies, Mexico and the Hawaiian Islands so their prices are no longer in the luxury class.

Avocados are becoming increasingly popular for sophisticated salads, desserts, cocktails and even as a food for small children. They are wholesome and easily assimilated and add zest to many ordinary vegetables and everyday dishes. Dice them into boiled vegetables or make them into interesting dressings or sauces and see how good they are.

Avocados and Fruit

Since the oil content of the avocado is high, this fruit is most delicious when combined with oranges, grapefruit, or tart crisp vegetables and a salad dressing consisting mostly of lemon juice. Plenty of salt also enhances the flavor of the fruit. It is sweet and delicately flavored so that you can serve it as a relish for appetizer or dessert. Cut it into thin wedges and serve with sliced lemon or lime.

Selecting Avocados

In selecting avocados, be sure that the fruit is fully ripened but not mushy. They are ready for use when the flesh is sufficiently soft to yield quite easily to gentle pressure of the entire hand. The meat of the properly ripened avocado should be creamy around the seed and blend into light and dark tones of green. If you do not use all of the avocado for one meal, cover the cut portion with waxed paper and lay in the refrigerator until you need it.

Avocado Cookies

Cookies made from avocado mashed through a sieve are delicious and unusual. Cream four tablespoons of shortening with the yolks of three eggs and one and one-half cups of sugar. Add one-half cup of sieved avocado, then add two cups of flour which have been sifted with one-half teaspoon salt and one teaspoon baking powder. Add one cup of chopped pistachio nuts (or other nut meats), roll thin, cut into fancy bridge shapes and bake from eight to ten minutes in a hot oven.

Avocado Dressing

Avocado makes a delicious dressing for tart fruits or vegetable combinations. Use one cup of sieved avocado. Beat one egg yolk until light and add one-fourth teaspoon dry mustard, one-half teaspoon salt and two tablespoons of lemon juice. Combine with the avocado and whip until light. This dressing is best used at once. It will keep for two

BANK UNABLE SAVE FARM OF REV. J. I. CASE

BERKELEY, Dec. 7. UP—Officials of the Federal Land Bank at Berkeley tonight announced they were powerless to prevent threatened foreclosure of the Forestville ranch of Rev. J. I. Case.

Willard D. Ellis, president of the land bank, said he understood the bank of Sebastopol would conclude its foreclosure proceedings tomorrow. When foreclosure was threatened last summer, farmers massed in protest and a court order restrained the proceedings.

Ellis issued a statement of the land bank's position in the case, saying:

"In reference to the foreclosure sale on the property of the Rev. J. I. Case of Forestville, this bank has never received an application for a loan from Mr. Case. However, we have had different appraisals made of the case property.

"We had the appraisals made because of the publicity given the case and in a sincere effort to see if the bank could be of service.

"The first two appraisals were made by appraisers appointed from Sonoma county and the last appraisal was made yesterday by an experienced farm man accompanied by Walter Dean, secretary of the land bank, and Harold Kelly, a member of the bank loan committee.

"The maximum loan bank and commission's loan possible would be $10,000. The amount necessary to save the property from foreclosure is in excess of $15,000.

"Officers of the bank and the last appraiser went over the property yesterday with Wilfred H. Howard, president of the Farmers' Protective Association. We believe that sufficient evidence was furnished Mr. Howard to convince him that the bank has offered all the property will justify. We have had no fee at any time and feel we have made every possible effort to serve Mr. Case."

Early Mailing Posters Ready For Giving Out

Postmaster L. J. Thomas has received a supply of posters, at the upon the patrons, the necessity for early shopping and early mailing of Christmas parcels. These posters are being placed at prominent places in the city so that the public might be continuously reminded of the early approach of Christmas.

According to Postmaster Thomas, it is already too late for parcels to reach some foreign destinations on time. He urges the ham-handed mailing of any parcels for foreign countries and suggests that those for distant domestic points be mailed early next week.

Instructions have been received from the Post Office Department at Washington, D. C., that nothing but Special Delivery matter can be accepted on Sunday, December 21, or on Christmas Day. This will mean that all letters and parcels must reach their destination in ample time to be sorted and delivered by December 23.

GOLD DRAIN ON FRANCE IS ALARMING

PARIS, Dec. 7. UP—The tremendous gold reserves flowing swiftly abroad, the French government faced the Chamber of Deputies today with demands that the 1931 budget be balanced to halt the drain which threatens to push France off the gold standard.

Finance Minister Georges Bonnet vigorously defended the gold drain against the world attack to put it down from its present stability.

He declared, however, that the situation only could be saved if the 6,000,000,000 franc deficit budget of 1931, which was not changed by the budget which came up for debate today.

Bonnet warned the chamber that the debt of another government on the debt issue would destroy world confidence in the franc and revive the inflation danger of 1925-26, when internal confidence likewise was undermined and the franc finally stabilized at four cents a franc of around 20, par before they crashed.

The speech came immediately with the weekly statement of the Bank of France showing the 13th week's loss of gold reserves.

The gold which was withdrawn during the week was worth 429,806,626 francs. The statement showed, leaving a total of 7,747,612,418 francs in the bank, an underground vaults of the Bank of France, beneath the River Seine.

The statement showed that in the past 13 weeks the gold drain has taken over 5,000,000 francs out of the vaults in gold. The ability of the Bank of France to weather this serious drain depends largely on whether the new government of Premier Camille Chautemps can win the chamber over to its program for balancing the budget in a way which has overthrown two governments in recent weeks.

Bonnet told the deputies that French gold would be enough to follow a new course in international and domestic politics continue to emanate that France will not be able to balance her budget and "keep our money healthy."

Defending the gold drain, however, the finance minister declared:

"I gave categorical declaration that this government will not allow attempts against the nation's money."

He traced the gold flow from the Bank of France and said that United States purchases under the Roosevelt purchasing plan had cut it off.

The American purchases of gold totaled only $10,000,000, he said, and now have stopped. United States capital is migrating heavily, with the result that dollars are being converted into pounds, the Bank of England has received so much of this flood of money that it has been forced to sell sterling, buying francs, which it has transferred into gold.

"Half the gold which has left since October 20 totaling over 4,000,000,000 francs, has gone to the Bank of England."

He said the rest of the gold drain had gone to Belgium, Holland and Switzerland, while English banks also have withdrawn their gold deposits from France.

The chamber adjourned until tomorrow when it will debate communist and socialist counter proposals to the Chautemps budget estimates.

OAKLAND, Dec. 7. UP—President Roosevelt and James Farley were asked by the Alameda county Democratic Inc. tonight to investigate certain appointments in the office of the U. S. revenue collector at San Francisco and to survey democratic patronage in California generally.

Riley Appeals to Bankers to Cash Warrants

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 7. UP—Controller Ray L. Riley today appealed to bankers to cash warrants against the state to accept a cashed state warrant at face value.

The plan, designed to prevent chaotic conditions in state departments, was contained in a letter to William A. Kennedy of Pomona, Calif., president of the California Bankers Association.

Riley proposed that each bank take between now and August, a proportionate share of the total warrants outstanding. The allotment would be based on deposits.

Most large banks have been accepting the warrants, but many smaller institutions have rejected them, it was reported. In many instances, only depositors could cash warrants.

Poor Memory is Cause of Trouble

VERMONT—A car that was wrecked with Henry Schneider's automobile was its owner's forgetfulness. The other day, after his work at the county courthouse, where he is janitor, Schneider drove home. A few minutes later, Mrs. Schneider called his attention to a bad leak somewhere in the car. Schneider looked over the motor carefully, found nothing and took the machine to the garage. Fast Trains to Operate Over S. F. Bay Span

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 7. UP—Streamlined, nearly noiseless trains will transport the expected peak load of 10,000 persons in 30 minutes on a bridge speed of 60 miles an hour when the San Francisco-Oakland bay bridge is completed, Earl Lee Kelly, director of public works, said today.

The trains will speed from the heart of San Francisco to the heart of Oakland in nine minutes and are capable of traveling 70 miles an hour, he said. Automatic docks and signal control will permit undisturbed speed, even when fogs are heavy.

Kelly said the RFO would be asked within a week or so for an additional advance of $15,000,000 to finance construction of transportation facilities of the bridge.

SEATTLE—Officers of the Washington-Alaska Military Cable and Telegraph system, found out finally what wrecked the wireless station at Tacoma, Alaska. A mechanic found in the rear seat the remainder of a tea pound holding up the reports the anti-ake of the Schneider had placed there and then forgotten.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah.—Speed in drafting ordinances governing sale of 3.2 percent beer after it is legalized January 1, was urged by the chamber of commerce.

Franklin Ritter, chairman of the committee promoting the action to the Salt Lake City Commission and a leader in the Utah repeal campaign, declared the city beer ordinance should be modeled so similar towns not having sufficient funds for legal advice, could pattern it.
